Why International Expeditions?

- You travel aboard the exceptional 32-guest M/V Evolution. There is no better way to explore the Galapagos. She's the perfect size, accommodations are excellent, and there's lots of public space.
- In the Galapagos, all itineraries are not created equal! Our Galapagos tour shows you the most interesting islands and a great diversity of sites. Each day is full of new discoveries, and there's also ample time to swim, snorkel and just enjoy.
- Highly trained, personable naturalist guides accompany you throughout the Galapagos cruise. They are experts - and also warm, caring people.
- We've been exploring the Galapagos for decades. Our unmatched expertise means that you'll be well prepared for your Galapagos cruise, and that there will be thorough attention to detail.

Chances are, if you're interested in nature and wildlife you've always wanted to experience a Galapagos Islands tour... a dream of so many adventurous travelers. On the equator in the Pacific Ocean, the Galapagos are home to some of the most interesting and accessible wildlife anywhere. During the Galapagos cruise, you'll find yourself just inches away from giant tortoises, comical blue-footed boobies, sea lions, penguins, iguanas and many other animals, and you'll gain an appreciation for how remarkable life on Earth can be.

With IE, you have the perfect way to explore: aboard the 32-guest M/V Evolution. She is the ideal ship, with spacious cabins and public areas - highly comfortable and intimate at the same time. Our highly qualified naturalist guides are authorities on the wildlife of the Galapagos Islands, and are a pleasure to be with. They will see that you get the most of your experience.

On our 10-day Galapagos tour you'll have ample time to explore the islands' diverse terrain - desert landscapes, lush highland forests, volcanic soils and nutrient-rich waters. We'll visit both Fernandina and Isabela Islands, where small volcanoes have recently erupted, and see how the animals are adapting to this change - evolution before your eyes. There will be plenty of time to snorkel alongside sea lions, or relax in the clear waters of the Pacific.

The M/V Evolution

The Evolution, carrying just 32 guests, is the perfect size to explore the Galapagos Islands - large enough to provide generous public and private space, yet small enough that you never feel part of a crowd. You'll have plenty of attention from your naturalist guides. The classic lines of the 192-foot Evolution capture the romance of an earlier era. Inside you'll find spacious cabins and a host of amenities, including an observation deck, sun deck and canopied bar. Snorkeling equipment and wet suits are available free of charge.
